1	Worked well.	1/31/2016 5:06 PM
2	It was a perfect way for us to space out the veggie pick up and not worry about missing a pick up.	1/22/2016 2:38 PM
3	IMHO, the real benefit to the flex share isn't until the heaviest harvest time, perhaps there could be options to consider a bonus week for holiday preparations (e.g., Thanksgiving)	1/22/2016 12:08 PM
4	Oops, I thought the question asked what we've selected for this year (2016) vs. what we just completed. For the 2015 year, I had the weekly small (5 units per week) share. It was excellent.	1/22/2016 12:02 PM
5	I love being able to pick the weeks I need to get fresh vegetables. When we travel I don't have to worry about having someone pick up my share.	1/20/2016 10:18 PM
6	WORKS FINE FOR ME	1/18/2016 6:55 PM
7	It gave me the flexibility around travel and eating needs to have produce when necessary. I liked having the 13 weeks as there was SO MUCH having 26 weeks for 2 people.	1/18/2016 4:50 PM
8	Since we travel a lot, this is the only way I could join the CSA. It was perfect!	1/18/2016 12:24 PM
9	Absolutely loved it. It's really the only reasonable way I can be a member due to work and travel issues.	1/18/2016 11:48 AM

1	I appreciated your flexibility in extending my membership to compensate for the weeks I had to be away.	1/31/2016 11:46 AM
2	Is the pickup location/time addressed later? We would prefer a Friday evening pick-up or later hours for the Saturday morning pick-up (beyond 10 am).	1/29/2016 9:33 PM
3	I wish there were always tongs to bag the salad greens. Since they're eaten raw, I just like the idea of fewer people touching them.	1/29/2016 7:31 PM
4	Spinach as often as you can grow it, please! :) And more delicata squash. Mmm!	1/29/2016 12:02 PM

5	Less worms in corn, please!	1/29/2016 11:39 AM
6	Make sure that CSA members know the names of the staff working the pick-ups. Maybe have their names on a sign at the pick-up.	1/27/2016 10:31 AM
7	always on time, baskets always restocked, friendly	1/23/2016 7:46 PM
8	The setting at the Chestertown location is crowded, particularly checkout where there's competition between display and space for customers. Consider adding a bit more real-estate or another location off the main walkway where the bulk of farmers are crowded.	1/22/2016 12:13 PM
9	Thelonius was very friendly and helpful. A really nice guy.	1/21/2016 8:00 PM
10	Great job!	1/21/2016 11:40 AM
11	Getting a list of the probable veggies we would be getting each week really helped me decide which ones I would be selecting. This saved me lots of time at the pick-up site. Also, Thelonius was most helpful explaining what the "new-to-me" vegetables were and possible recipes for them.	1/19/2016 1:13 PM
12	Too much kohlrabi :)	1/18/2016 5:53 PM
13	You have the BEST interns!!!	1/18/2016 4:51 PM
14	Sometimes the produce is a little small.	1/18/2016 12:48 PM
15	I learned to get there early!	1/18/2016 12:40 PM
16	I would like to see the e-mail with the produce to be received that week starting to come on Thursday again. By the time we get the e-mail late Friday night there is really no need for it as the box arrives Saturday morning.	1/18/2016 12:15 PM
17	Most of the vegetables were very small and the price was high for the size and quantity received. I can buy organic veggies at the store that are cheaper, bigger, and last longer.	1/18/2016 11:58 AM
18	More varieties of cucumbers please	1/18/2016 11:42 AM

Q11 A “unit” of vegetables is meant to approximate what one would typically find at a supermarket: a bunch of carrots, a pint of cherry tomatoes, a bag of lettuce, or a head of broccoli. The exact weight or volume of a given “unit” of vegetables sometimes differs from one week to the next depending on a number of factors. Of all of the different vegetables you chose to take this season, were there any for which the UNIT size was far too much, or far too little?

66	No, it was just about right on everything I chose	1/18/2016 1:29 PM
67	I think I had the medium share. some weeks it seemed too much, but it all worked out.	1/18/2016 12:52 PM
68	Too little - broccoli, spinach (the share amount was ok, but sometimes we were only allowed to take one share), tomatoes	1/18/2016 12:50 PM
69	NO	1/18/2016 12:42 PM
70	Sometimes the single unit of broccoli is large for one person, but I find that to be true at the grocery store as well.	1/18/2016 12:40 PM
71	They all seemed just right to me.	1/18/2016 12:26 PM
72	I can't think of anything!	1/18/2016 12:19 PM
73	No, we had no problems with quantity - would love to be able to add additional veggies (for a fee) to our boxes after we receive the weekly e-mail	1/18/2016 12:16 PM
74	Most of the veggies in bunches were much smaller than bunches are at the grocery store.	1/18/2016 11:59 AM
75	Pint of cherry tomatoes is too small. Same thing with potatoes at times. Lettuce is good. Size of item makes a difference. 3 kohlrabis is great, 1 watermelon is good 1 rutabaga depends on size.	1/18/2016 11:51 AM
76	I am a college student who shared a medium share with 2 other students. For me, I thought 2 pounds of sweet potatoes was too much, but then again I didn't have time to cook them every week. When I did have time to cook them (in soup, stew, as a side) 2 pounds was a reasonable quantity. Perhaps 4 heads of garlic in one share was too much, but it lasts for a pretty long time, so it wasn't unreasonable. A unit of regular potatoes (not sweet potatoes) seemed a little small, but again the potatoes were small and the unit was not unreasonably small.	1/18/2016 11:49 AM
77	No	1/18/2016 11:46 AM
78	not that I recall - the unit sizes seemed reasonable	1/18/2016 11:23 AM
79	I often didn't take a full 12 ounces for salad greens, especially since I took them each week when available.	1/18/2016 11:05 AM

7	It would be nice to have more fruit. The variety of cabbages, bokchoi, etc. was FANTASTIC this year! Any chance of growing mustard greens? Also, the hard winter squashes seemed to be in short supply this year. Any chance of growing kabocha squash? Overall, I am thankful every day that I have such a wonderful source of produce.	1/29/2016 7:38 PM
8	Thanks for another great year. :) We had fun and miss it now.	1/29/2016 12:11 PM
9	The colchester staff at the famers market was always very pleasant , helpful and informative	1/29/2016 11:59 AM
10	THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!! THIS IS GREAT & IMPORTANT FOR THE COMMUNITY!	1/29/2016 11:43 AM
11	Only missed one pickup from being out of town. My brother was going to pick up for us..... and proceeded to forget. He contacted Colchester Farm and explained the situation, and they were VERY accommodating and allowed for him to pickup our share and a location different than our usual spot. Really appreciated that. It was an excellent first experience - so good that we're back again, and have brought new members with us!! Thanks very much	1/27/2016 11:22 AM
12	Theresa is great, and she always hires interesting, diverse and pleasant staff. Keep it up.	1/27/2016 10:38 AM

16	Your employees are always helpful and pleasant. I look forward to seeing your staff each week. The staff and members one meets are always ready to share ideas and recipes. I find I am always sad when the season ends.	1/22/2016 8:17 PM
17	Keep up the good work.	1/22/2016 5:26 PM
18	Survey Monkey, while expedient, is limited in the options offered. Not sure if you've added weights to selected questions for analysis. If I may offer a suggestion, consider user ranking for order of importance to some of the questions pertaining to reasons for joining, product quality, shopping experience) to inform process, produce quality, or service improvements. I am very grateful for the CSA as a community business, and its reliable access and outreach.	1/22/2016 12:28 PM
19	I'll be interested in hearing what you will do about pickups when the close the Chester River bridge next summer. I am hoping that we can change pick-up days to avoid the detour!	1/22/2016 11:40 AM
20	The emails and feature stories on the apprentices were well done! The facebook photos of the staff were great! A straw bale chicken coop might be constructed with volunteer labor and be a point of interest for visitors/marketing.	1/21/2016 11:57 AM
21	We truly appreciate the hard work that goes into providing the CSA. Love that you have chosen to farm and share the fruits of your labor.	1/20/2016 11:23 AM

22	I think ALL of you do a fantastic job!!	1/20/2016 10:40 AM
23	Thank you so much for the wonderful produce you made available to us for so many years! We will miss you very much and hope we can find another CSA that can serve us as well as Colchester!	1/19/2016 12:39 PM
24	Keep it up.	1/19/2016 10:20 AM
25	I'd love to see fruit added to the CSA at some point and would be willing to purchase a larger share to include fruit.	1/19/2016 9:33 AM
26	enjoyed talking with the staff that worked at the pick up site- they were friendly and full of information on the produce	1/19/2016 8:19 AM
27	Thank you, I really enjoyed the CSA. The produce was great and everyone is very friendly and helpful. The eggs were delicious. I especially liked getting the seconds tomatoes because a share of tomatoes was too small to can, but with the seconds I could can a batch of tomatoes!!! Thanks!	1/18/2016 9:11 PM
28	The young lady at the Tuesday pick-up was very pleasant to everyone.	1/18/2016 7:18 PM

30	I hope to see lots of those perfume/seasoning peppers next season, as I don't know if I'm going to grow any, but I'll certainly try... and more of the Portugal Peppers...one of my favorites!	1/18/2016 5:13 PM
31	Thank you for, again, offering surplus items for canning, i.e. tomatoes. You are doing a superb job. All of the employees are so nice. The presentation of food at the market is beautiful.	1/18/2016 4:59 PM
32	Great work!	1/18/2016 3:31 PM
33	You are doing a great job; you keep improving each year	1/18/2016 1:40 PM
34	I'm wondering what will happen to the Tuesday pickup at Kingstown when the bridge closes.	1/18/2016 1:03 PM
35	I would love more herbs, French Tarragon, chervil, cilantro, dill and thyme.	1/18/2016 1:03 PM
36	Produce requests - more eggs available, mushrooms, fruit - blueberries, apples, raspberries, strawberries etc. If fruit was part of our share we would buy a medium or large share instead of a small share.	1/18/2016 12:58 PM
37	Sometimes it was hard to choose because it all looked so good and I had a small share! Thank you for having flex shares. The only thing I would suggest is a few more herbs (perhaps a variety of small bunches could be one unit).	1/18/2016 12:34 PM
38	Overall a fantastic job - wish the box was year round and we could add eggs and additional produce	1/18/2016 12:20 PM
39	On whole, we have been very satisfied as first-year members of Colchester Farm. I'd be very interested in hearing more about what Colchester is doing towards expanding access and affordability of its produce and memberships. In particular, it seems that more needs to be done to allow acceptance of SNAP benefits both towards CSA memberships and at the Chestertown Farmers Market. If Colchester does raise money to help food banks or provide shares to low-income families, it should be better publicize these efforts to members. This is a vital portion of the framework for sustainable agriculture which seems largely absent at Colchester.	1/18/2016 12:16 PM
40	A couple of times this year the produce was super muddy (potatoes and carrots)--a result of bad weather, I'm sure, but a quick spritz with the hose would have made it nicer in terms of having to get it into a bag and into the house. Thanks for all you do! We love farm share!	1/18/2016 11:58 AM
41	I loved being a part of Colchester Farm's CSA this fall, and I will definitely look for a new CSA to be a part of when I relocate after college.	1/18/2016 11:56 AM
42	Theresa is the GREATEST! Staff is always helpful and polite.	1/18/2016 11:54 AM
